SHAMROCK AND HER FULL CREW—MRS. BURTON AT THE LEFT

Points Where Polish Lines Are Being Driven In by Bolsheviki

The worst breaks in the Polish line, which menace Warsaw, have been made at Rovno, in the southeast, about 250 miles from the Polish capital, and on the Berezina, about 50 miles above Minsk, on the northeast. The Bolsheviki success at these two points opens the way to Warsaw unless the new Polish volunteer army can stop the advancing Reds.

places reaching the old Russo-German fighting line. The banks of the Dnieper and other rivers along this line are crowded with barbed wire and the hillside are strewn with trenches, while the various elevations are dotted with German-built steel and concrete pill-boxes, and it is expected the Poles will elect to make a stand along this defensive line.

Squadrons of the Polish Second Army, including the Kościuszko Aerial Squadron commanded by Americans, are taking a prominent part in fighting the Bolsheviks in the air. The American flyers repeatedly attacked the horsemen, dropping bombs and using machine guns in the effort to stem the westward sweep of the Bolsheviks.

Bolshevik troops, after several fruitless attempts, have effected a crossing of the Berezina in strong force near Navasialki, southeast of Borisov, about fifty miles northeast of Minsk. It was announced in to-day's Polish official communiqué.

A smaller detachment forced the Berezina south of Berezina village, further to the southeast.

BUFFALO POLES TO GO HOME.
About 1,000 Expected to Answer Call for Volunteers.

BUFFALO, July 8.—More than 1,000 Polish veterans of Buffalo, it is estimated, will answer the call of President Pilsudski of the Polish Republic for volunteers.

Officers of the Polish Army who belong to the Buffalo Polish Veterans Association planned to meet to-morrow night to consider a possible call of all Polish reservists in America for service in Europe.

Jewels Robbery in Freeport.
FREEPORT, L. I., July 8.—The Freeport Police were notified to-day that thieves entered the home of A. O. Hirsch, of No. 17 New York Avenue, while the family was away for the holidays, and stole considerable jewelry belonging to Mrs. Hirsch. The complete list of stolen goods has not yet been furnished the police, but they are said to be valuable.

BOTH CONVENTIONS RULED BY BOSSES OF THE OLD TYPE

Influence of Penrose at Chicago Matched by That of Murphy at Frisco.

By David Laurence.
(Special Correspondent of the Evening World.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 8. (Copyright, 1920.)—Anybody who attended both the Republican and Democratic conventions will always be asked whether or not one or the other or both of them were controlled or bossed. Of course the Democrats point enthusiastically to the forty-four ballots and to the prolonged debate on the platform as evidence that the delegates worked out their choices here without dictation or undue influence.

But the writer, who isn't in the slightest degree interested in which party is successful next fall, came to the conclusion that in only a very few places did the Democratic Convention differ from the Republican gathering. Essentially they were the same. Senator Penrose wielded his influence as of old. So did Charles Murphy of Tammany Hall. The Old Guard in each party came back to party control this year.

AMATEURS LINED UP AGAINST PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS.
Alongside the veterans at Chicago the group who tried to get the nomination for Hiram Johnson were the most amateurs. And alongside Murphy of New York, Brennan of Illinois, Nugent of New Jersey, Moore of Ohio, Marsh of Iowa and Stanley of Kentucky, the group of Democrats who were born with the advent of Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore were the most astute.

Everybody who is in a position to know the facts will testify that the master politician of the progressive Democracy—Woodrow Wilson—kept hands off because his son-in-law was in the race, but it is also true that Mr. McAdoo's fortunes would have fared much better if he had had at San Francisco somebody like Daniel C. Hooper to deal with the Democratic bosses and talk to them in their own language.

The convention itself was unbossed in the sense that the balance of power was held by a set of Western delegates who were free from Eastern domination. But these delegates were worn out and confused by the effort of the chief McAdoo leaders to play the game with the old men, which they knew ever so much better. It is true the bosses who favored Gov. Cox's nomination because they thought him wet enough to help their legal tickets in State and city cam-

EXPECT SHAMROCK TO GIVE RIVAL 6½ MINUTE HANDICAP

Official Decision on Time Probably Will Be Made To-Morrow.

The task of taking the measurements of the yachts Resolute and Shamrock was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning at the yard of the Morse Dry Dock and Repair Company, at the foot of 56th Street, Brooklyn.

Harold W. Webb, official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, said that most of the day would be taken up with taking more than 500 measurements of the hull of each boat.

The measurements of the water-line and beam of the yachts was completed yesterday, both boats being in the water with their full crews aboard.

It was said to-day by a man in a position to know that the Shamrock IV. will give the Resolute a handicap of about 6½ minutes. The official decision as to the handicap is not expected until to-morrow.

Assisting Mr. Webb in measuring the yachts was H. L. Norris. For instruments they used a pantograph, steel tape and two surveyors' transits. The transits were focused on fixed points, the measurements taken and reproduced in exact proportion on the contour maps. The yachts will be reproduced on these maps and then comes the work of computing their relative strength through trigonometry.

An unusual ladder caused much comment. It can be run up to the height desired and an arm shot out at any angle. A man is safe on any part of it. It is light weight and easily handled.

The two yachts were out of water to-day, standing stern to stern, with Shamrock IV. outside and Resolute inside. They presented a striking contrast in size and lines. Their crews were going over the hulls with sand paper, shining them to perfection, and Shamrock was taking on a light green color while Resolute was turning to a coppery brown.

C. Sherman Hoyt, who was manager of Vantage during her trials with Resolute, will be the New York Yacht Club representative on Shamrock during the races. It was announced. H. L. Garrett of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, who carried on the challenging negotiations, will be on the Resolute.

from $8,000 from Illinois, "but not from Governor Lowden himself." He spent $7,000 or $8,000 of the money, he added, and $4,000 was raised from other sources.

When the witness charged the Democracy had spent more money than he did and had bought votes in local elections, Senator Reed asked: "You don't care when you get $9,000, do you?"

"Not a bit," the witness replied, "but I would need about $50,000 to combat some Democratic conditions there."

Senator Kenyon turned to the Palmer campaign in Georgia and asked Johnson if officials of the department of Justice took part in the Attorney General's campaign there.

"Hooper L. J. Alexander of Atlanta was the leader," Johnson said.

The Senate committee will move to St. Louis to-night to take up the investigation of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's campaign for the Democratic nomination, Chairman Kenyon announced.

The principal witnesses in the Palmer investigation will be Edward F. Goltra, Democratic National Committeeman from Missouri and Joseph T. Davis, an attorney of St. Louis.

Senator Kenyon stated that the committee would continue its efforts to learn the names of large contributors to the Wood campaign fund. William Loeb of New York described himself as "a sort of clearing house through which the Wood funds in the East passed."

Loeb told the committee that he had informed the Wood managers it would take $1,000,000 to carry on his campaign. He said Col. Ambrose Monell underwrote $250,000, George A. Whelan, a tobacco millionaire, underwrote $250,000 and Col. Procter the same amount. Loeb agreed to give names.

He mentioned H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil as a contributor of $50,000.

The fluid missed her face but burned her arms and shoulders, she said. Her husband has not returned since he left her three years ago in answer to a draft call, Mrs. Samuels said.

Hymowitz denied the charge. He was held in $1,000 on a charge of felonious assault for examination to-morrow.

HARDING WRITES SPEECH BY HAND

MARION, Ohio, July 8.—Senator Harding arrived at his office earlier than usual to-day in order to accomplish as much as possible on his speech accepting the Republican Presidential nomination. Instead of dictating it to a stenographer, the Senator, following a habit acquired during thirty years of newspaper work, is writing it out in long hand with a pencil. According to members of his office force, the Senator makes "clean copy" and few changes are required in his manuscripts.

Owing to the rush of work, Senator Harding has been unable since his return to Marion to play golf, but he hopes shortly to arrange his engagements so as to play a round occasionally in order to keep in good physical condition during his campaign.

Accompanied by his brother, Dr. George T. Harding Jr. of Columbus, the Senator late last night eluded James S. Hines, his bodyguard, and quietly left his home for a short stroll through the streets of Marion. He visited the Marion Club, where he was greeted by a number of old friends.

To-day was the Senator's and Mrs. Harding's twenty-ninth wedding anniversary, but they planned to observe it quietly with a few close relatives joining them at dinner this evening.

George Greenstein, a chauffeur, of No. 181 Newton Street, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty to speeding in Fifth Avenue and was sentenced to three days in City Prison. This was his second offense.
